Chamber of Commerce Elects Bunker, Bell

John Bunker, manager of the Edison branch of the First National Bank of Highland Park, was re-elected president of the Edison Chamber of Commerce for a second term Thursday noon in the Edison House, Route 1.

The newly-created position of executive vice president will be filled by Alexander M. Bell Jr., owner of Bell Drugs, Route 27. Also elected were: Vice president, Walter Duff of New Jersey Bell Telephone Company; secretary, Mrs. Dorothy M. Krog, editor of the Edison Times, and treasurer, Mrs. Antoinette M. Baratta, of B. & M. Lumber Company.

told the Chamber donations in the current fund drive had fallen short of the goal due to previous collections by groups representing themselves as members of the squad.

Bohn asked the Chamber to support the squad in their efforts to have the Township Council adopt an ordinance regulating the soliciting of charity funds. He said he would like to have Chamber support for a move to have enacted a law requiring every soliciting group file a financial report with township officials.

On Wednesday evening the Township Council postponed ac-

Engineers' Society Elects Del Mastro

Anthony J. Del Mastro of 36 Claremont Ave., Nixon, has been elected president of the New Jersey Society of Professional Engineers.

He will be installed at ceremonies at a state trustee meeting late next month.

Del Mastro, a native of Jersey City, has resided in Edison since 1947. He graduated from Rutgers University with a BS degree in civil engineering in 1941 and received his MS degree in civil engineering from Columbia University in 1949.

In 1943 he joined the faculty

of Rutgers University where he is a professor of civil engineering and executive officer of the department of civil engineering. His early years at Rutgers were spent teaching the Army Specialized Training Program. From July 1944 to March 1945 he was on leave from teaching duties to do war research for Rutgers and the army, including a stay in Panama.

During the summers he has been affiliated with various engineering firms in New Brunswick, Philadelphia and Chicago.

Del Mastro has been licensed to practice professional engineering and land surveying in New Jersey since 1946. He has served the National Society of Professional Engineers as alternate director from New Jersey in 1955-56; chairman of the Engineers in Education Committee in 1955-56-57, and as a member John Chizmadia, a member of the Edison Board of Education, was elected president of the New Jersey School Board Publications Association at the third annual dinner held last week.

The association, housed in the Graduate School of Education, Rutgers, was formed as a voluntary cooperative organization of local school districts to study problems of school boards and administrative publications; and to aid in the improvement of these publications.

Chizmadia, who was re-appointed to a five year term of the Edison Board of Education in February has resided in the Township for more than ten years.

He is a member of the New Jersey Federated District Board of Education; Middlesex County School Boards Association, and New Jersey Education Association.

He is also a member of the Metuchen Elks, Lodge 1941; the executive committee of the Fords - Clara Barton Boys Baseball League, and was a supervisor in the Junior Bowling League, sponsored by the Edison Recreation Department.

Chizmadia is employed at DuPont of Perth Amboy, where he is a member of the DuPont Parah.

He and his wife reside at 64 Waltuna Ave., Fords where their two sons, both boys attend Clara Barton School.

Other officers of the state association who were elected are: vice president, Mahlon Merk, assistant Superintendent of Schools, Franklin Township; treasurer, Milton Steinhauer, Professor of Education, Rutgers; executive secretary, Robert Marker, assistant Professor of Education, Rutgers.

Dinner Honors Dr. Hanson

More than 200 persons attended a testimonial dinner last week to honor Dr. Edward K. Hanson who is observing his 50th anniversary in the medical profession.

Dr. Hanson, who has served as school physician for more than 40 years was doubly honored when it was announced a scholarship in his name will be given to a deserving pre-medical or medical student from Edison.

Proceeds from the dinner, which totaled $800 will be added to the scholarship fund.

Speakers who paid tribute to Dr. Hanson included: Mayor Anthony M. Yelencsics; Township Attorney Christian Jorgensen; Board of Education Secretary John Anderson; Superintendent of Schools Joseph Ruggieri; Edward Trio, plant manager of Hayden Chemicals, and Hanson's brother, Thomas former township attorney and magistrate.

The invocation and benediction were offered by the Rev. J. H. Martin, pastor of St. James Episcopal Church, Nixon. Alfred C. Urrier was master of ceremonies.

A former township health doctor, Dr. Hanson is also plant physician at Hayden.

Storm Damages Edison Homes

Residents in the Vineyard Village area have reported heavy damage to their homes as a result of the unusual storm that struck Edison Thursday evening.

Gusts of wind, thunder and lightning preceded the brief but violent storm which included rains and thousands of hail stones ranging in size up to golf ball diameter.

The hail produced holes and dents in shingles of homes along Wilshire Road. One resident said most of the homes will have to have complete paint jobs to repair the damage. Another resident said she had two windows blown out, one in the storm door and another in the garage

To Dedicate Palsy Center

The board of directors of the Middlesex County Cerebral Palsy Association has announced the formal dedication of the newly constructed Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center and School in Roosevelt Park will be held June 10, at 3 p.m.

Patients have been getting instruction and care at the Center during the past few months. The building is located across the lake from Roosevelt Hospital,

The trees in the area lost many leaves from the strong winds but comparatively few residents reported damage to low shrubs.

FIVE GENERATIONS attended the 60th wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. James Ellis Sr. The family group included, from left, James Ellis Jr., Mr. Ellis, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Clara Nolan, Ellis Sr.'s granddaughter, and Mrs. Marsha Klizmasz, daughter of Mrs. Nolan, holding Kathy Klizmasz, Ellis's great great granddaughter. All Star Lineup Races At Flemington

Four beefy giants weighing half a ton dominate the all-star lineup for Saturday night's championship NASCAR stock car races at the Flemington Fairgrounds. American's only "square" clay-topped half-mile speedway. The program starts at 7 p.m.

Bucky Barker, Les Farley and Oliver Butler, each tipping the scales at 250-pounds, are country "kids" from small farming communities such as Pluckemin, Calif. and Frenchtown.

Spud Murphy, the behemoth of the fleshy quartet, is a drawling southerner from Lake Worth, Florida.

Farley and Butler have won track crowns while all four of the group whose total poundage amounts to 1055 are currently in contention for the two professional titles, in the sportsman and modified divisions of competition.

Butler's progress has been sensational, winning the novice championship last year and after "graduating" to the sportsman division flashing top form to challenge for the pro title. He is one of three brothers who have campaigned at Flemington.

More than 70 entries have been received for Saturday's motor action, the novices on display at 7 p.m., followed at 8:30 by the pros.

To Honor Mrs. Patten

Mrs. Edward Patten, wife of the Democratic candidate for the 15th Congressional District seat, will be the guest of honor at the Edison Township Women's Democratic Organization annual June Dinner in Ye Cottage Inn, Route 1, June 6.

Mrs. Frank Takacs and Mrs. Peter Quagliarello are co-chairmen of the affair scheduled to start at 7 p.m. The entertainment has been arranged by Mrs. Mike Casalino. Mrs. George Hollingshead is in charge of publicity. Decorations were supervised by Mrs. Mary O'Malley and Mrs. Kate Geiler.

Reservations may be made before June 4 with Mrs. Takacs, Mrs. Quagliarello or Mrs. Jack Hale.

PETE FRASCA, left, and Joe Kirkwood say goodbye to the Summer as Frasca leaves Miami Beach to return to New Jersey to open the Hole-In-One Golf Range, Stelton Road, for the season.

Frasca Opens Local Course

Pete Frasca, owner of Hole-In-One Golf Range Stelton Road, has returned from Florida to open the local range and miniature golf course opposite Hadley Airport.

During the winter Frasca was a member of the Tournament Committee for the National Football League Golf Tournament held at Hollywood Beach Hotel/Country Club in Hollywood, Florida.

He served as golf pro at the Roney Plaza in Miami Beach. While in Miami Frasca teamed up with Joe Kirkwood Jr. to tour the course, Kirkwood, motion picture star who portrays Joe Palooka in the movies, is a trick shot artist.

Give-But Carefully

Men and women who will complain loudly and vehemently about a five cents overcharge in a store, have blithely donated as much as $25 to solicitors without asking where the money is going or who will benefit by it.

Edison First Aid Squad 1 has estimated they have lost nearly $2,000 in donations because residents have handed out cash and checks to persons saying they were collecting for the first aid squad. This money, intended by residents for use by the local squads, will pay salaries of collectors, support charity cases in other towns, and go for uses in no way connected with Edison.

We do not intend to condemn all soliciting by charitable groups in Edison as there are many worthwhile causes which depend on resident contributions for support, but we do stress that everyone approached check carefully into the organization collecting.

It would be quite a problem to find anyone in Edison who is interested in paying for dinners for down-on their luck men in Patterson, but that is just what happened when some Edison taxpayers donated to a "fund drive" a few weeks ago. These people thought they were contributing to the support of the Edison First Aid Squad.

Don't refuse to give your support where it is honestly needed, but do check on what you're supporting.

Grist From The Mill

by Clifford L. Miller

THE THOUSANDS of New York and Jersey City folks who have come "out west" to Edison in the past five years were only following in the footsteps of men and women who have been doing the same thing for three centuries. And probably for the same reasons: more land and greater opportunity.

ONE of the earliest settlers in Edison was Samuel Doty who climbed the bluffs from the Raritan River on 1669 to help build the village of Piscatawaytown, between what is now the Nixon-Lindenau area and the River. Doty was then 26 years old and a native American, born in Plymouth Colony. He was a scrappy, adventuresome youth with many of the traits of his father, Edward, whose shrewd wits and fiery temper had clashed with the stern Puritans of Plymouth from the day that hardy band had been dumped on the forbidding shores of New England.

EDWARD Doty had fought a duel with another young Plymouth swain out of rivalry for the attentions of a young Miss Hopkins. Neither man was seriously hurt and neither got the girl but both were arrested and sentenced to 24 hours in the stocks in the public square. This was the first arrest in the New World. Doty later became one of the richest men in Plymouth but the records show that his cupidity in acquiring land and cattle were the cause of many litigations with his fellow townsmen. He married a Miss Faythe Clarke in 1635, shortly after she arrived from England in the good ship "Francis", and their large family of nine children are probably what helped to convince Samuel that his fortune was to be found in newer lands.

WHEN a ship with colonists of the West Indies Company put in at Plymouth en route to the "Jerseys", Samuel Doty shrewdly bargained his experience for passage and sailed with these pioneers through Long Island Sound, the East River, New York Bay and Raritan Bay, up the Raritan River to the mouth of the stream that empties from Silver Lake. It took six long years of hard work to build the home and the security of a prosperous farm before he married Jane Harmon there in 1678 and in those years he had become a lieutenant and then a captain of the Militia. Before he died, late in 1715, he had sired ten sons who were to carry the name Doty, sometimes Doughty and sometimes Dotten, ever westward. Eventually one of his great-granddaughters married a German in western Pennsylvania and some of their descendants came back to the land whence they sprung.

AND that is the story of how GRIST came to the EDISON TIMES.

Quigley Completes Training Course

Walter J. Quigley

Walter J. Quigley of 108 Duclous Lane was one of the 11 men who completed the Humble Oil & Refining Company course in service station management Saturday.

Quigley, who is the proprietor of Quigley Servicenter, Route 1 and Maple Ave., Nixon, attended the eight-week course at Esso Standard District Retail Training School in Plainfield.

Esso dealers and dealer trainees received detailed instruction and experience in all aspects of the service station business. The training is part of the company's constant endeavor to provide customers with quality service through the best trained independent businessmen in the service station retailing field.

"MAGGIE," of the clan Wylie, first revealed to American audiences "What Every Woman Knows" when the James M. Barrie play opened at the Empire Theatre, New York, on December 28, 1908, and a melodramatic adaptation by Hugh Thomas and William Roy of this charming Barrie tale of the perpetual whims and wiles of woman had its pre-Broadway premiere last week at the Paper Mill Playhouse.

We suggest you walk - do not run - to the nearest telephone and reserve seats while you still may, for "Maggie" is a delightful, uncomplicated addition to our musical comedy scene, and Betsy Palmer is a blonde bundle of charm in the title role of the canny lass who acquires a dour Scottish husband - by contract, Maggie Wylie Shand must be played by an actress with natural warmth, a quality which Miss Palmer abundantly radiates, and her musical moments in solo or duet reveal sufficient vocal versatility, which more than meet the demands of William Roy's tuneful score and lyrics.

As Maggie's handsome, unsmiling husband, Stuart Damon is that rare combination: a singer who can really act! John Shand is no run-of-the-mill musical equal and Mr. Damon's histrionics equal his rich, full-bodied baritone. In adaptation the authors have reduced the role of the Countess to a virtual walk-on but Claudia Morgan accepts this challenge and dominates every stage moment allotted her. Similarly the part of Lady Sybil has been scissored down to a script tease and Lovelady Powell does very well with very little. Wylie Sr., and sons David and James, are engagingly played and sung by John Griggs, Roger Hamilton and Jamie Ross. The trio harmoniously render the title tune, "Maggie," and with Miss Palmer make a rollicking Scotch drinking ditty, "Four Men Thimblet." The hit of the show.

Composer - lyricist William Roy does not stoop to mass musical commercialism. Each of his fourteen songs in musical "Maggie" are completely in

Deadline Set For Children's Theater

Applications by youngsters for admission to the Children's Summer Theater of Douglass College will be accepted for only one week more. June 4 has been set as the deadline for applications by the directors, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Swartzell.

The Children's Summer Theater operates for six weeks on a day-camp basis, providing a program in theater arts for boys and girls ages 8-16. Three plays will be presented this summer by the 50 youngsters in the company, for the enjoyment of young audiences.

Applications and information may be obtained from the Secretary, Children's Summer Theater, Douglass College, Rutgers, The State University, New Brunswick, or by calling Charter 7-1766, extension 7-314 on Mondays and Thursdays.

Bazaar to Aid Palsy Association

United Cerebral Palsy Association of Middlesex County will hold their second annual bazaar during the week of June 4th.

The 1962 budget has been increased by $19,000.00 over 1961 due to the increase of the number of patients, their treatments and transportation. Education facilities have also increased, necessitating a larger staff of personnel.

The sources of income are not adequate to support the present program. The National Cerebral Palsy Fund Raising Campaign contributes but 27% of the necessary expenses. Another 42% is received from the United Fund. With all other income totalling only 13%, the Association is shy some 18%. The bazaar is being held in an attempt to make up some of this deficit.

Chairman Arthur Pavao of the bazaar committee announces this year's bazaar to be held at the Brunswick Shopping Center, character and his lyrics perfectly match each melody in flavor and mood. If "Maggie" does not "make it" on Broadway, it will be Broadway's blase refusal to accept a show that is refreshingly clean theatre. Like its star, Betsy Palmer, "Maggie" is loaded with charm. We heartily recommend you go see "Maggie," which may prove to be the "sleeper" hit on Broadway next season.

Local Firm Hosts Welders

Air Products and Chemicals, Inc. of Oak Tree Road was host to the Road Show of Welders presented by the Miller Electric Manufacturing Company of Appleton, Wisc. Friday afternoon. Representatives of welding corporations, equipment manufacturer and repairing operations were shown modern techniques and newest innovations.

The Road Show of Welders is a 35 ft. aluminum trailer housing a complete range of Miller Arc and Spot welders from the small-hand-held lectro spot through farm, shop and hobby models, construction and industrial type to the mighty Miller balanced wave welder, on display are spot welders, A-C, D-C, A-C/D-C and gasoline driven combination welder power plants.

Demonstrations of the various metallic arc and tungsten inert gas welding processes, joining of different metals, including those used in the Atlas missile which was welded with Miller Equipment and using Air Products Oxygen, were conducted throughout the Road Show of Welders' stay.

Air Products Oxygen is used throughout the missile program by N A S A and Air Force.

Air Products and Chemicals, Inc. at Iselin manufactures a complete line of medical and industrial gases in both the gaseous and liquid states running the full temperature range from -297 F for liquid Oxygen down to -453 F for liquid helium.

Acting as hosts for Air Products and Chemicals, Inc. were Richard E. Hill, district manager; George E. Lowrie, sales manager of KGM Equipment of Allentown, Pa; Alexander J. Mraz, recently promoted to manager of equipment sales, Iselin; Albert Miller, production supervisor; Joseph Smith, dispatcher; Stanley E. Earman, office manager and Miss Gloria E. Day and Mrs. Samuel Saks hostesses.

As a safety precaution, Edison First Aid Squad No. 2 of Menlo Park stood by with their ambulance and crew.
